

Polybagging

Polybagged mailings can contain a number of printed items such as samples, advertisements, software, stickers, cards, promotional items, and much more.

Polybagging is a great marketing tool for our customers. Virtually any combination of companion pieces can be stacked together to form the mailing.

Unlike envelopes that have been purchased to accommodate exact specifications of a job, polybagging more easily accommodates changes if necessary.

Polybagging also protects your mail from the high-speed automated equipment that the USPS uses to sort the mail. As a result, products will look their best in professional offices or customer homes.

Polybagging offers several advantages:

- Provides durability
- Inexpensive and recyclable
- Protects materials
- Inkjet messages right onto the polybag
- Include a wide variety of marketing items

Polybagging provides resistance to:

- Scuffing
- Tearing
- Water Damage
- Dust
- Bent Corners

Ask your Panaprint sales representative for more information and pricing.